sidewalk in front of the former M & M Bank -- he was looking up at the clock on City Hall. It was towards the end of the day and he was doubtless anxious to leave work. I was in the Park -- we didn't speak. In the evening I worked at my desk. WBW telephoned. Joe Pascoe telephoned. Sue Stephens telephoned -- she read me the letter of hers that will appear in the NEWS this week. I read in McPhee Edwards and then withdrew. I woke up after 9 PM, which is very unusual for me, and went to the Post office, the Big Chief and then returned and listened to Swan Lake and worked at my desk. At about 730 or 300 I decided that I would go up to Maplewood Cemetery and take some photographs. Just as I was on my way out the door, JVB appeared. Her brother Harmon returned from Army basic training on Thursday night. The entire family went to the airport at Avoca to meet him, which is why John was not at the Historical Society meeting on Thursday night. John reported on the trip to Avoca and on Harmon's basic training experience. Last night, Harmon and John went roller skating in Kingston. Such is the world we live in. I asked John if he would like to take a trip to Seelyville sometime. I explained that I want to talk with Alice Welham Lund about the Clinton Pioneer Days. John suggested that we also visit Dr. Steers at the same time. Excellent, said I.

I suggested that we should perhaps not try to get them both in today, stating that we need more time with Steers than an hour. John telephoned his house to announce his plans, and was told by his father that he had to help put siding on the house. So much for the Seelyville trip. John quickly took his leave and I walked out the door with him. I walked to Maplewood Cemetery and took some black and white photographs.
